

A Gift that Keeps Giving: A Day of Building Homes and Memories

This holiday season, we're giving the gift of time—and not just any time, but a chance to build something truly meaningful together. We're signed up for a Habitat for Humanity Build Day—a hands-on experience where we'll work side by side to help construct a home for a family in need. It's the perfect way to bond as a family, give back to the community, and create unforgettable memories that will last long after the season is over!

From: _____

